

The third annual Thomistic Seminar sponsored by the Witherspoon Institute

Elizabeth Anscombe

Ethics, Value, & Practice

An intensive summer seminar for philosophy graduate students • August 18-22, 2008 • Princeton, New Jersey

Faculty

John Haldane (St Andrews)
Gavin Lawrence (UCLA)
Michael Pakaluk (Clark)
Thomas Pink (Kings, London)
David Solomon (Notre Dame)

G. E. M. Anscombe (1919-2001) is widely regarded as one of the most powerful philosophical minds of the twentieth century and has been described as the greatest woman philosopher of whom we have any record. The seminar will explore aspects of Anscombe's work in the areas of value theory, ethics, and norm-governed practice. It will relate these to the work of some of her contemporaries and to the thought of Aquinas.

Application Deadline: May 1st, 2008

Visit <http://www.winst.org/seminars/ts2008.php> for application instructions and further seminar information. Questions? Contact ThomisticSeminar@gmail.com